The History of Flamenco

A JOURNEY THROUGH DANCE

Flamenco is a musical genre and dance from the 18th and 19th century, created by the Andalusian people. It began to develop in public places, such as cafes in the 19th century.

It is a mixture of several cultures : those of the Roma, the Arabs, the Jews and of course the Andalusian population.

Flamenco is based on three main elements: singing, guitar, and dance.

MORE THAN JUST MOVEMENT

For Spanish people, especially in Andalusia, flamenco is an emotional expression of identity, used to convey deep feelings like pain, joy, and pride.

Flamenco is a highly expressive Spanish art form that combines singing, dancing, and guitar. It is known for its intensity, rhythm, and the way it conveys strong emotions such as joy, sorrow, or passion.
