

Pica Pica

Chattering magpie

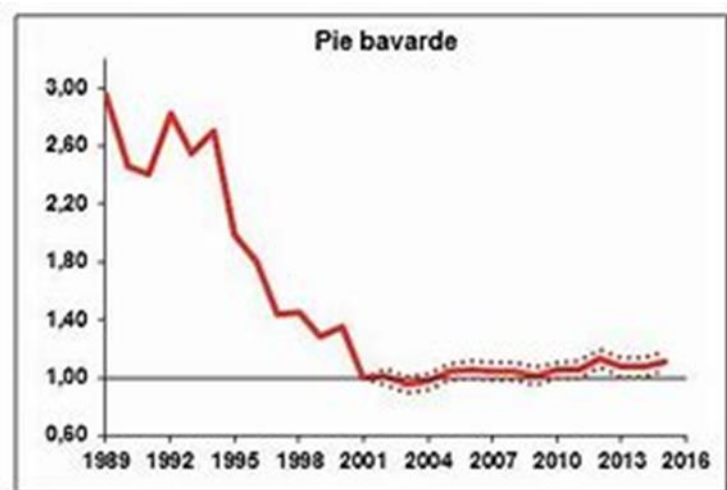

Description: The magpie is a large bird with white and black plumage . She is very intelligent and talkative

Migration: The magpie is sedentary and likes to stay close to its nest . On the other hand, the magpie moves in groups during the winter.

Lieu d'habitat: The chattering magpie is widespread throughout Europe, Asia, northwest Africa and North America. On the other hand, it is rarer or absent in altitude and Corsica. It lives rather in open environments (light forests, meadows, cultivated areas ...) It is still possible to see it in urban areas (parks, public gardens ...)

Lieu d'observation: I observe the chatty magpie around my house

Population en France : The total population in France would be about 2,224,000 pairs of chattering magpies.

Graph analysis :

We can see that in 1989 the abundance of Pica Pica drop from 3,00 to almost 2,30 in France .

Then , look at the small soar in 1990 from 2,30 to 2,90 . possible An important point is the big plunge you can observe in 1992 from 2,90 to 1,00 which is the lowest point.

What is interesting here is the small grow in 2001 from 1,00 to almost 1,10 .
